DAY 2: PHNOM PENH

After breakfast.

You spend the whole morning discovering the capital's famous monuments. You start with the National Museum of Phnom Penh. Located near the Royal Palace, the National Museum is well worth a visit. Architecturally speaking, this red palace opens onto an interior patio where a Buddha statue sits in the middle of a well-arranged garden. This museum houses the finest collection of Khmer sculptures and bronzes in the world, with pieces from the country's archaeological sites..

You are visiting the Royal Palace and the Silver Pagoda. These are indeed one of the biggest tourist attractions in Phnom Penh. These buildings from the year 1860 are an excellent example of the beautiful and detailed Khmer architecture and the Khmer. The Royal Palace is a place where the most important ceremonies and coronations take place. As for the Silver Pagoda, it extends on a hill that covers about 5 hectares and is 27 meters high. It is a well-attended place during Buddhist festivals..

DAY 6: SIHANOUKVILLE – KOH RONG

Breakfast at the hotel.

Visit Kbal Chhay waterfall is a set of cascading waterfalls not far from the resort town of Sihanoukville in the southwestern Cambodian province of Sihanoukville. The falls are a popular swimming and picnic spot for locals and tourists and are best viewed during the rainy season from July to October. There are several tiers at Kbal Chhay Waterfall, and you can walk across the top tier as well as swim at the bottom. They get a bit busy on weekends, so they are best visited during the week. If you are here during the dry season, don't expect anything more than a cascading waterfall. The falls originate from a nearby mountain range and cascade down tiers that can reach about 15 feet. You can hang out at the picnic area in the main part of Kbal Chhay Waterfall, where the food and drink stalls are located, or head deeper to see more impressive cascades. Additionally, you can also spend time hiking in the area, as the falls are located in the middle of a beautiful country dotted with forests and streams.

Lunch at a local restaurant

In the afternoon you visit the largest and most beautiful temple in the monumental complex of Angkor Wat built by Suryavarman II in the early 12th century which was the city of monasteries. Being the spiritual heart and identity of the Khmer people, the temple was imbued with excellent Khmer architecture, naturalistic, complicated and full of symbols. It is one of the most stunning architectural masterpieces still existing in the world today..

You watch the sunset from the top of the hill Bakeng.

DAY 13: SIEM REAP

Breakfast at the hotel

The morning is devoted to the Visit the River of a Thousand Lingas. A large number of lingas have been carved into the riverbed. They are like squares of stone lining the bottom of the water. These lingas were used to bless the waters before they reached the royal city. Bas-reliefs depicting the deities of the Brahmanic pantheon are also found along the river.

Then you visit Banteay Srei, Located about 18 km from the Angkor Wat Temple. Considered by many to be the jewel of classical Khmer art, this site is not very large and has been wonderfully preserved. The sculptures of its bas-reliefs are certainly the most successful in Angkor. Dating from the end of the 10th century, this Hindu temple is dedicated to Shiva. This quadrangle has entrances on the east and west sides. The three central towers are interesting for more than one reason. They are decorated with male and female deities and beautiful filigree bas-reliefs
